Divisions 1 and 4 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held creditable meetings Gsst, Phil Thompson and Frank A. this week and at each the movement for Lenz, who have all been seriously ill the new Hihernian hall was discussed and committees appointed to act with the County Board in selecting a alte for ion 3, also appointed his committee of only one from which the hall committee remains to be appointed. The committees from each division will act in conjunction with the County Board in deciding upon the site. After the joint committee has agreed the respective committees will repert back to their divisions. It is the intention to appoint these committees finally for a term of five years.

President John M. Mulloy presided over the meeting of Division 1 Tuesday night, and while the attendance was only fair, the members present were full of vim and husiness. Messrs, Thomas O'Neill, Patrick Meehan, James Cusick and John Callahan were reported sick. A communication from the Ladies' Auxiliary relative to the proposed meeting Monday night was read and on motion of David O'Connell Division 1 pledged its moral support to the ladies. David O'Connell, Thomas D. Clines and Thos. Keenan, Jr., were appointed on the committee to attend the Ladies' Auxillary meeting and co-operate with the ladies in organizing a dramatic club.

Thomas Dolan became eloquent in his reference to the ladies and urged that the members of the auxiliary be admitted into the movement for a new hall. "Let them in," he pleaded; "what better light President Keenan, one of the fathers of the auxiliary, added his tribute to the fair sex. ### ARRANGEMENTS

For a Mammoth Euchre and Dance by Mackin Counall Next Month.

Mackin Council, Y. M. I., held its regular meeting Tuesday hight, with President Raldy presiding. The attendance was excellent, when it is considered that no unusually important matters were to be discussed. Three members were reported ill.

The committee appointed to arrange for the painting of the dancing hall and the wall railing reported that the Mackin Social Club and Gymnssium Committee LITTLE CHANGE IN IRISH YOTE tary of Agriculture for Ireland, has AN EVENING OF HEARTY GOOD CHEER together would give a euclire and dance on the evening of Thursday, February 22, Washington's birthday. The proceeds from the joint entertainment will be used to defray the expenses incurred by the improvements in the dancing hall.

Vice President Louis J. Kieffer urged the purchase of a "wooden horse" and other athletic spparatii, which when secured will make Mackin's gymnasium as well equipped as any in the city. President Raidy appointed a committee to catalogue the library and also to secure new books.

John Carr, the Ban Johnson of Y. M. circles, was appointed Chalrman of Mackin Council'a Baseball Committee. It is proposed to have a Y. M. I. league of five clubs during the coming season.

YELLOW JOURNALS.

The recent legal execution of murderer in the Jefferson County jail has moved many people to oppose capital punishment. Crime should he punished, but the question that confronts us in these days of yellow journalism is, "Is not the exploitation of the details of the crime, the story of the malefactor's life, his last hours and words, his agony, whether his neck was broken or whether he simply strangled, worse than the crime itself?" Poor Van Dalsen killed an unfortunate women. How many will he killed body and soul by reading the accounts of his execution as published in the daily press of this city? One paper was no better than another. Van Dalsen murdered in a jealous drunken rage. The owners of the daily papers murder morally, spiritually, Judas-like, for lucre. The Keutucky Irish American is a believer in the liberty of the press, hut it does not believe that liberty should he stretched into revolting indecency. And what could be more revoltingly indecent than the accounts of the recent hanging? Many men and women destroyed the papers of Friday and Saturday lest their children read the rot prepared for them. Louisville maintains a his head. Bureau of Health that cost the city $16,700 last year. Why? To prevent contagion, to secure pure food, to make our families healthier and happier. Steps are taken at once to stamp out small-pox, typhoid fever, diptheria, scarlet fever and kindred ailments. The victims are isolated until the effect of the disease has passed away and the danger of contagion destroyed. Now is the moral disease, that caters to mental depravity and morbid curiosity, the disease that editors and owners of yellow journals feed upon, any more virulent or destructive than the disease that destroys physical life like consumption, or small-pox that mars physical beauty? The beauty of the soul is far superior to the beauty of the body. But we permit these soul destroying germs carried by yellow journals to enter our homes. Isolate them. Make your office or place of husiness a pesthouse for these papers if you must read them, but in the name of all that is good do not carry

It can be proven beyond the peradventure of a doubt that there is more intellect in the police their days of usefulness are over. and fire departments of Louisville than there is among the members of the bar when both are taken in A song for the band that are seldom sung, the aggregate. Mr. Helm has the reputation of being a shrewd lawyer-a lawyer without tricks and subterfuges. A lawyer with White lilies that nod in the gardens of any shrewdness would not have more than 500 men who constitute the Louisville police and fire departments. Mr. Helm may have attended a few more colleges than the average policeman and fireman; he may know how to speak more rhetorically, but he certainly does not know how to keep his mouth shut like the firemen and policemen. When he opens it he certainly acts the part of a contortionist in putting his foot in it. It is too bad! After all these years to fiud Jim Helm knocked out by his own tongue. Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, carried his pitcher to the well once too often. Mr. Helm has the same bald head, decorated with a fringe of tawny locks; the same attenuated figure. He and When their Heavenly Spouse seals for Fitz might have passed for twins a few weeks ago. It is different now. Fitz has lost his punch and Helm

PUBLIC OPINION.

The Syracuse Sun had an excellent editorial in its last week's issue on the subject of "How to Build Civilization." Editor O'Malley quotes from the Hon. Edward J. McDermott, of this city, in his recent address on "How shall we preserve our civilization?" as fol- funeral of his brother.

"It is absolutely vain and useless to propose or urge good laws unless a vigilant public opinion enforces them. Many of our best laws are observed or enforced by nobody. A sound public opinion must be created by an unremitting, daily effort by the press, by the pulpit, by teachers of the young in public or private schools, by the words and conduct of good men in public and private life, and by the mothers and wives who have the intellect and the goodness to teach, and to compel us to observe the simple and eternal principles of morality and duty. The rights of man have been expounded enough. The regarded."

"This rings true," declares the editor of the Catholic Sun, 'and and addressed the joint legislative is very much to the point. We need more doers and fewer gabelection laws. Judge James P. hlers." The Kentucky Irish American agrees with with Editor

WOULD LEGALIZE MURDER.

While the legislators of Kention abuses in Louisville, and there tucky, assembled at Frankfort, are have been real election abuses in making heroic efforts to minimize the city, but it remained for James crime, the law-makers of Ohio, P. Helm to go farther than his assembled at Columbus, are trying colleagues. Mr. Helm laid stress to legalize murder. The Ohio upon the work of the police and House of Representatives has voted firemen in politics and gave voice to receive a hill offered by Repreto the statement that "policemen sentative Henry T. Hunt, of Cinand firemen are not of a very high cinnati, who proposes to put to rder of intelligence." Mr. Helm death those who through sickness has been given credit for astute- or injury desire the "happy disness. 'If he has it he left it in Lou- patch.'' The bill provides that swille. ### HINTS ON STYLE.

Tokay grape color is a new one. Valenciennes is liked on little evening

Empire and Directoire styles are hopeiessly mixed. The new copper brown goes well with Russian sable.

Irish lace and ermine is a swagger combination. Black broadcloth for afternoon is having a great running. Hair ornaments this year are varied in character and very elaborate. Broadcloth and tulle are much used for trimming silk gowns. Bands of broadcloth cut in scallops, points or geometrical designs at the top edge are appliqued to the lower edge of the skirt. The broadcloth should match in tone the stripe or predominant color in the silk. Paradise feathers are all the rage on fashionable milinery. Fastened to the front of the crown, or possibly the brim. the plumes aweep gracefully backward right over the hat, covering one side as much as the other. Sometimes this paradise is edged on either side by an ostrich of self-color, be it black or white. The paradise idea is carried out in both large and small hats. A pretty little turban, pointed in front, is particularly suitable for the purpose.

there being no criminal cases. All Catholic Ireland is pleased to learn that Irish Christian brothers and Irish nuns are teaching in Rome to save Italian Catholics from proselytism. Resolutions denouncing the Treasury nterference with the teaching of Irish in schools were defeated at the meeting of the Blackrock Urban Council. The Mayo County Conneil has passed resolutiona denouncing jury packing at Sligo and protesting against the retentiou of Sir Horace Plunkett in office. At a large meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in Limerick it was decided to hold an industrial exhibition for Munster ng the Tralee Quarter Sessions was that the weather was very bad. The county was never more peaceable or orderly. The death of Alderman Crowley, after an illuess of only a few days, occurred at Cork. Only five weeks before he was elected from the Center ward in succession of the late Alderman Edward Walsh. The Irish Trades Congress will be held in Athlone during Whit week. Arrangements are being made by the local trades aud labor people for the reception of delegates, about 300 of whom are expected to attend.

By the death of John Ulick O'Sullivan at Ballyfinan, County Rerry, a promineui figure has been removed from local circles. He was the father of the Very Rev. Canon O'Sullivan and of the late Rev. Ulick O'Sullivan.

Richard Murphy, who has filled the position of station master at Lismore for some time past, has been appointed canvassing agent for the railway company at Clonmel. His place was given to William Moore, of Buttevant.

The Dominican Community in Sligo and the Order of Preachers in general are the poorer by the death of Rev. Columba Keenan, which took place at the Sligo priory. Comparatively young in years, his missionary life was full of zeal and his saintly qualities endeared him to all with whom he came in contact.

In the death of Thomas Plunkett at Longford a stanch Nationalist was lost to the Irish cause. Deceased was a comparatively young man, though a prominent figure in all public affairs of Longcounty and never lost interest in the material welfare of his native land.

On the recommendation of Simon Mangan, Lieutenant for County Meath, Isaac and Thomas Roundtree, of Moynalty, have been appointed to the Commission of the Peace for County Meath.
